The clinic is expected to annually treat as many as 30,000 children.

Dr. David Miller, Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) reports:

- Thirty site visits to school-based dental providers have been completed so far this school year. Site visits are conducted by IDPH staff on behalf of HFS. Consistency in follow-up referrals for children whose exam indicates one to four cavities (score of "2") and children whose exam indicates five or more cavities (score of "3") is the prevalent finding of the site visits.

- Beginning development of a cost-benefit analysis of the dental sealant program using guidelines from the Association of State and Territorial Dental Directors (ASTDD).
- A survey of third-graders' oral health needs is being conducted.

Dr. Mary Hayes reports the Chicago Dental Society (CDS) Foundation Dental Clinic in Wheaton is successfully operational. The clinic is a "safety net" provider; providing dental services that on the spectrum of dental care fall between a dental home and emergency care. The clinic was projected to provide $500,000 worth of dental services in 2013. After nine months of operation, the clinic has already provided $430,000 worth of dental services. There are 200 registered patients at the clinic, now open six days a week and staffed by CDS volunteers. A new office coordinator has also now been hired at the clinic.

Kim Bartolomucci reports the Chicago Community Oral Health Forum (CCOHF) is assisting with the IDPH oral health screening survey in Chicago Public Schools (CPS). The group also provides oral health education at CPS for students in pre-Kindergarten through twelfth grade. The 20-30 minute presentation is funded by a grant from the Wm Wrigley Jr. Company. A presentation for children age 0-5 is currently being developed. CCOHF also has received a grant from the Mars Company to develop an oral health campaign that will be rolled out on March 5, 2014 at the ADA Headquarters. The oral health campaign is not county specific.

Dr Jorelle Alexander reports the Cook County Health and Hospital Systems (CCHHS) is assisting with the CPS oral health survey of third graders. The CCHHS has also added a department of oral health to their organization.

Details of the conference, including registration materials and programs offered will be available later this year on the IFLOSS website at www.ifloss.org.

Dr. Debra Schwenk reports that she has left her position as Clinical Dean of Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine but will continue with the university in preparation for her retirement. Her replacement has been hired. The School of Dental Medicine has received two grants to fund the operation of two dental operatories that will be equipped to provide sedation at Touchette Hospital in East St. Louis, IL.

Dionne Haney reports the Illinois State Dental Society (ISDS) continues to support HB1516, SA2 and is also researching other possible solutions for the lack of Medicaid funded adult dental services in Illinois. The ISDS Mission of Mercy will be held June 20-21, 2014 at the Peoria Civic Center in Peoria, IL. Volunteer registration for the Mission of Mercy will soon be available on the ISDS website at www.isds.org.
